

Identify all parties with their legal names and roles.

Define the objective, deliverables, and responsibilities of each party.

Specify payment amounts, schedules, and penalties for non-compliance.

Protect sensitive information and define ownership of intellectual property.

Outline dispute resolution methods and conditions for termination.

Verify adherence to local, state, and federal regulations.